President's Letter

Here we are starting a new year with high hopes for success for all of you. The new year is starting out with a bang for three artist's. Yesterday (1-10-08) we sold four paintings to one gentleman. Two paintings were the same artist. One was mine, one JoAnne Wood, and two were Diane Linebaugh's. Diane is a new member. Congratulations!

We have been working on making the gallery look a little more classy. We bought new print racks so the gallery owns all the racks rather than have members bring in their own as in the past. It looks more uniform. They are a little smaller and take up less space because we can, and have, place them under the paintings against the wall. We are planning on buying several sofa size tables and draping them with fabric. This is to make looking at consignment items more comfortable for the folks who come into the gallery. We will turn the pedestals upright, as they are in the middle of the gallery, and put pottery, gourds, sculpture, and the like on them. It should look really good.

This Sunday, 1-13, my husband will put a programmed thermostat on the heating and cooling system. You won't have to set it anymore. It will heat and cool to 70 degrees and shut down to 60 degrees at 4 p.m.. Please don't touch it. To set it is very complicated. I will put a note on the communication log when it is working in case he has any problems Sunday and there is a delay.

I know there was lot's of snow on our January meeting day so lots of you couldn't make it. That was a shame because you missed a great demonstration by Sabina Bye. Who says our members can't do really good demos? Sabina almost completed a pastel painting of a dog, and she gave many good pointers as she went along. Most of you probably didn't know but doing animals is one of Sabina's specialties. She does many commissions of people's pets. In this case the dog is mine. My little Shih Tsu, Chui. Sabina will have the piece in the Winter Show.

I have a memory problem due to some medication I take for my arthritis. Please forgive me if I forget to do something for you. Just remind me again.

As you can see, all the gallery information is in my letter. Patt is not computer literate so I will try to cover everything.

I hope you all have great success with your art this year. Happy New Year.

Dorrine

Mark Tompkins will be demonstrating the technique to make the paint on your painting crack. This is a great technique for pots and wood. Mark did this demonstration several years ago for us, but we felt it was time to have it again since we have so many new members.

See you at the meeting, Feb. 12.

Message from Lori Nourse:

When the new bin art holders came in to the gallery, some one took mine by mistake. It has my business card attached to the back. Could you please ask that whoever has it contact me? I have the other one, we can just trade them.

Thank you,
Lori Nourse
